the raids therefore were more than an exotic nuisance but a key factor in siena s decision to abandon independence in 1399

in 1454 the sienese painter francesco di bartolomeo alfei faced litigation from the mercanzia in siena for defaulting on a contract from one of the leading franciscan confraternities in the city two fellow sienese artists giovanni di paolo and sano di pietro had recently completed a new altarpiece for the same entity anabel thomas considers how the two commissions were linked and questions why francesco di bartolomeo alfei s brief to fresco the confraternity chapel remained unfinished in a wide ranging analysis of mainly unpublished records focussing on the artist s association with key members of sienese society fellow artisans and government officials thomas concludes that francesco di bartolomeo alfei might have honoured his contract had he not become immersed in the military strategy diplomacy and visual propaganda of the republic of siena this book is an examination of the nature of the governments of towns and cities great and small in renaissance italy and of why oligarchic regimes were becoming increasingly prevalent themes and questions arising from a case study of the dramatic changes in the government of fifteenth century siena form the basis for the analysis of popular government and oligarchy throughout italy from piedmont and the veneto to sicily and of how they were shaped by social change institutional developments and external threats and pressures especially war in a field dominated by local studies this comparative approach provides a fresh understanding of the important problem of how and why broadly based governments were losing ground to oligarchy throughout italy
