mission has become for north american christians an ambiguous and often uncomfortable term the power of the idea of mission is that it defines those specific actions of god which proclaim the gospel and build god s kingdom

one of the more important developments in the field of theology in the past two decades has been a gradual but genuine revival of interest in the doctrine of the trinity this fundamental christian doctrine had been neglected by theologians who saw it as isolated from practical christian faith and life recently however feminist and liberationist as well as more traditional catholic and protestant theologians have come to see the trinity not as an abstract doctrine but instead as dealing with the living and dynamic being and acts of god and closely related to jesus christ and the resurrection as the mystery of salvation this insight has in many ways become one of the central themes of contemporary theology in this study irish presbyterian theologian john thompson provides a survey of the wide variety of modern thought on this important theme examining the work of figures like karl barth karl rahner wolfgang pannenberg and jurgen moltmann and their views on such issues as the relationship of the trinitarian doctrine to scripture the church philosophy politics and society
